एग्जिट पोल: हरियाणा में एक दशक बाद कांग्रेस सत्ता में आयेगी

जम्मू-कश्मीर में एग्जिट पोल के बाद अनिश्चय की स्थिति नज़र आ रही है

-डॉ. सतीश मिश्र-

-राष्ट्रदूत दिल्ली ब्लूरो-

नई दिल्ली, 5 अक्टूबर। एग्जिट पोल के अनुसार हाल ही में हुए विधानसभा चुनावों में कांग्रेस हरियाणा में जोरदार वापसी कर रही है।

एग्जिट पोलस के अनुसार हरियाणा में 55-62 सीटों पर कांग्रेस जीत रही है, वही जम्मू-कश्मीर में राजनीतिक अनिश्चितता है, जहाँ भाजपा निर्दलीयों व छोटे दलों के सहयोग से सरकार बनाने में एंडो-चोटी का जो तराव देगी।

सत्तारूप भाजपा को हरियाणा में तीसरी बार सत्ता में आने की उम्मीद थी, पर सर्वे के अनुसार 20-32 सीटों पर सिमटी नज़र आ रही है। हरियाणा में शम 5 बजे तक 6 प्रतिशत मतदान हो चका था।

एग्जिट पोलस में कांग्रेस को पूर्ण बहुप्रत दिया जा रहा है।

रिपब्लिक टी.वी.-पी. मार्क एग्जिट पोल में कांग्रेस को 55 से 62, भाजपा को 18-24 सीटों पर गई है। इसमें जे.जे.पी. को 3-4 सीटों पर गई है, वहीं आप का तो खाता भी खुलता नहीं दिख रहा है।

- नैशनल कॉर्नफैस व कांग्रेस गठबंधन को जम्मू-कश्मीर में 43 सीटें मिलने की आशा है, एग्जिट पोल के अनुसार। भाजपा की लगभग 27 सीटों पर जीतने की सभावना है तथा पी.डी.पी. आठ सीटों पर सिमट सकती है। पर, छोटी-छोटी क्षेत्रीय पार्टियां 18 सीटों पर जीत सकती हैं।
- जम्मू में 41 प्रतिशत वोट पाकर भाजपा 27 से 31 सीटों पर जीत सकती है तथा नैशनल कॉर्नफैस और कांग्रेस गठबंधन दूसरे स्थान पर रह सकता है, 37 प्रतिशत मत प्राप्त करके। यानि, 11-15 सीटों पर गठबंधन विजयी हो सकता है तथा पी.डी.पी. 4 प्रतिशत वोट शेयर हासिल करके, अधिकतम दो सीटों पर जीत सकती है।
- भाजपा, निर्दलीय व छोटी-छोटी क्षेत्रीय पार्टियों के विधायकों को साथ लेकर, जम्मू-कश्मीर में सरकार बनाने की पूरी कोशिश कर सकती है।

हरियाणा विधानसभा में 90 सीटों हैं, बहुमत के लिए 46 सीटें चाहिए, अधिकांश एग्जिट पोल के अनुसार कांग्रेस को 44 से 61 सीटें दे रहे हैं।

कुछ कांग्रेसी नेताओं ने तो महलवाल कांग्रेस का भगवान बोला देखा है, कोई सुरेजवाला जैसे नेता मुख्यमंत्री बनने की तो पार्टी को अन्यान्य कांग्रेसी नेताओं के भवित्व में बदला देखा है। पर

यद्यपि हरियाणा में शनादर जीत मिलने से पूरे देश में कांग्रेस के प्रति सकारात्मक संदेश आए हैं, और रणीदप सुरेजवाला जैसे नेता मुख्यमंत्री बनने की तो अन्यान्य कांग्रेसी नेताओं के भवित्व में बदला देखा है। पर

हुडडा ने 27 सितम्बर को एक रैली में कहा था, कांग्रेस को हरियाणा में विधाल जनोदास मिलेगा। उन्होंने पार्टी में अनंतकल ही की बात खारिज कर दी और कहा कि मुख्यमंत्री पद के ज्यादा दावेदार होंगे तो पार्टी को मजबूती मिलेगी।

हुडडा के इस दाव के बावजूद भी कांग्रेस आलाकामन के लिए हरियाणा में जाट नेता को मुख्यमंत्री नहीं बनाना काफिं कठिन होगा। मलिलकार्नुं खड़ेगे, राहुल गांधी, सोनिया गांधी तोनी को अन्यान्य सारी क्षमता दिखानी होंगी, राज्य के तीनों के भवित्व में बदला देखा है। पर

Earth has caught a 'second moon'

After its brief stay around Earth, the asteroid 2024 PT5 will continue to orbit the sun as part of the Arjuna family of asteroids.

Farth has a new, temporary companion in space: a "mini moon" — named Asteroid 2024 PT5. This small space rock, about the size of a bus, was caught by Earth's gravity on Sunday. But don't expect to see it in the night sky from India — or anywhere else — unless you have advanced telescopes.

NASA scientists calculated that Earth captured the "second moon" on Sunday (Sept. 29). The "mini-moon" is actually the tiny asteroid 2024 PT5, which usually orbits the sun as part of a small asteroid belt that follows Earth.

While Earth's primary companion, the moon, has lingered around our planet for around 4 billion years since its formation in the solar system's infancy, this asteroid will be a temporary fixture that won't stick around forever.

Asteroid 2024 PT5 is about 10 meters wide and was first spotted by scientists in Spain this August. It's expected to orbit Earth for about two months, circling our planet until it breaks free on November 25. Unlike our main Moon, this mini moon won't complete a full orbit around Earth before heading back into space.

This space rock is part of a group of asteroids called the

The Return of Global Terror!

From Afghanistan as a base, Islamic terrorists have been able to strike Pakistan, Turkey and Iran.

Afghanistan's Taliban government appears to be taking on the mantle once donned by Zia ul Haq and the ISI to be one of the lead sponsors of terrorism through motivation using the radical route. The Taliban is using its surrogate, the Tehreek e Taliban Pakistan (TTP) as the sword arm of this attempt to revive militant Islam and have greater control over it.

A Qaeda has been quieter in comparison and is yet trying to re-establish its significance in the new strategic matrix that global revival of terrorism is trying to create.

In March 22, a terrorist attack killed at least 137 people at the Crocus City Hall in Krasnodar, at the edge of Moscow city during a rock concert. The incident had echoes of Moscow's Nord-Ost theatre siege, in 2002, where more than 170 people died, and the 2004 seizure of a school in Beslan in which 334 people, including 188 children, perished. Those attacks were carried out by Chechen militants fighting a separatist war against Russia. They had ties to Al Qaeda-related groups at the height of the early years of the first cycle of global terror.

The Evidence
Claims and investigations involving body cam clips of the incident ultimately point towards the Afghan-based Islamic State of Khorasan Province (ISKP), which accuses Russia of having Muslim blood on its hands in Afghanistan, Chechnya and Syria. If the ISKP claim is true, then it is obviously concerned. In addition to the much-projected image of national unity in the war against Ukraine, Russia is also increasingly economically dependent on seasonal and migrant workers, particularly from Central Asia; remember, Russia has a dwindling population. Also, do recall that Russia once had a token number of troops deployed in Tajikistan to keep an eye on the area, which has 72 million Muslims all vulnerable to the vile propaganda of the ISKP and similar exponents of Islamic terrorism. This deployment is now history once the Russian Army found itself deficient in troops in Ukraine.

The Krasnodar incident is an event that has been condemned around the world without full realisation of what its geopolitical significance is. On one hand, there are beliefs about the connection of ISKP through the mother organisation signifies an attempt to signal that it has finally established itself in the vicinity of the near abroad region in sufficient measure to target Russia and its interests, including those in and around Central Asia.

Krasnodar is an event that has been condemned around the world without full realisation of what its geopolitical significance is. On one hand, there are beliefs about the connection of ISKP through the mother organisation

ISIS to the US, which, it is alleged, is the main sponsor of ISIS to prevent a Russian-Iranian takeover of Syria and northern Iraq. No credible evidence of this has ever been presented. Krasnodar appears to increasingly signify the return of global terror; the making of a second cycle after the decline of the first witnessed during the pandemic. This was something anticipated for long, the recent historical legacy is important to understand.

Return of Global Terror

We have believed that global terror-incubated Afghanistan after ISIS lost the battle of Mosul in 2017. The latter led to it attempting to failed revival in Marawi in the Philippines and a last-ditch attempt in Sri Lanka with the Easter bombings in April 2019.

With the coming of the pandemic in 2020, terrorism went into a shell but with all networks intact; a phenomenon that takes place when terrorist groups temporarily withdraw to recuperate. ISIS gravitated to Northern Afghanistan in an area where neither the Taliban nor the coalition forces had presence or control. The US withdrawal from Afghanistan in August 2021 offered the greatest opportunities to terrorist groups to break their shackles and emerge as before.

The situation in the Middle East was yet in the middle of the follow-up to the Abraham Accords.

The outbreak of the Ukraine war in February 2022, six months after the US withdrawal from Afghanistan, took away a lot of attention from the likely threats of international terrorism. The rise of the Afghan Taliban, the encouragement it has given to the Tehreek e Taliban Pakistan (TTP), and in the last five months the atrocities across Gaza after an equally obnoxious display of terrorism by Hamas against innocents in Southern Israel have all given rise to the sentiments that have gone into the making of fresh triggers. These have the potential to take the world back to the days of 9/11 and thereafter; Islamic radicalism is back and flourishing.

From Afghanistan as a base, Islamic terrorists have been able to strike Pakistan, Turkey and Iran.

Afghanistan's Taliban government

Han and the ISI to be one of the lead sponsors of terrorism through motivation using the radical route. The Taliban is using its surrogate, the Tehreek e Taliban Pakistan (TTP) as the sword arm of this attempt to revive militant Islam and have greater control over it.

Al Qaeda has been quiet in comparison and is yet trying to re-establish its significance in the new strategic matrix that global revival of terrorism is trying to create. In the strange world of global terrorism, although there is little or no coordination, a live and let live norm seems to have come into existence, at least for now. The Af-Pak region, where the terror footprint is increasing by the day, will find state response increasingly weak and easy to overcome, given Pakistan's utter downturn in its security capability; that is a nation that fought terror through the conventional mode during Operation Zarb e Azb.

Conclusion

With the display of brazen capability to establish networks in Central Asia, execute acts in Russia's capital and remain capable of targeting the Iranian city of Kerman, even during an event in memory of national hero General Qassem Soleimani, the ISKP is demonstrating a creeping expansion. Recent exposés in India reflect the tip of the possible iceberg.

The nation that should be most worried is China.

Its counter terrorism experience is next to nil, except for the string of some very harsh measures in Xinjiang from whom many of the fighters of the ISKP hail.

From the US withdrawal from Afghanistan, we explore the journey of a student who, while isolating in his room working on his thesis, stumbled upon a childhood photograph of himself holding a butterfly. This small discovery reawakens a sense of wonder and curiosity that he had long forgotten.

From that moment, he begins to reconnect with the world around him—feeling the wind, watching the clouds, and allowing himself to dream. His imagination takes him on extraordinary journeys, from soaring over the Amazon to exploring the depths of the ocean and encountering fantastical creatures.

These experiences not only move and intrigue him but ultimately transform him. At its core, Antichambre is about rediscovering the magic of observation and how moments of reflection can spark profound personal change.

In a mesmerizing showcase of innovation and artistry, Antichambre by the French duo Stereoptik left audiences spellbound at the Rajasthan International Center in Jaipur. Presented as part of a nationwide tour organized by the French Embassy in India, Alliance Française, and the French Institute, this performance blended live animation, visual poetry, and music into a unique sensory experience.

Romain Bermond and Jean Baptiste Maillet, the creative force behind Stereoptik, took viewers on a journey of imagination, where art transcended boundaries and language.

From introspective storytelling to live demonstrations of their creative process, Antichambre immersed audiences in the beauty of transformation, creativity, and wonder. They performed in Kochi, Pune, Bangalore, Mumbai, Kolkata and Bhopal, in addition to Jaipur. In an exclusive conversation, Bermond and Maillet share insights into their work, their inspiration, and the artistic magic that fuels Antichambre.

What is the message you hope to convey through Antichambre?

The message is simple yet profound: when we get too absorbed in work, we often overlook the simple wonders of life like love. You don't need much to create something beautiful—just simple materials, creativity, and a sensitivity to emotions. It's a reminder to slow down and appreciate the world around us.

What challenges did you face in producing the show?

The biggest challenge is the live nature of the performance. With elements like live painting and music, everything needs to be executed with precision—it's not improvisation. There's a lot of technique involved, and while performing, we're always thinking ahead to the technical requirements of the next scene. It demands a high level of focus and coordination.
